Report of North American safety certification-approved models release

■ Date of issue

March 2026

■ Applicable models

MELFA FR series

Thank you for your continued support of Mitsubishi Electric industrial robot "MELFA". This technical news describes the models in the MELFA FR series that are approved for North American safety certifications (NRTL and CSA).

1 About North American safety certifications

In the United States, OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health Administration) is responsible for safety certification of factory equipment, and NRTL (Nationally Recognized Testing Laboratory) approved by OSHA certifies the safety of electrical and electronic products. For this reason, we have obtained NRTL certification for our products sold in the United States. And for the same reason, we have obtained CSA (Canadian Standards Association) certification for the products sold in Canada. NRTL certification and CSA certification are required in each state and municipality of the United States and Canada.

In the United States and Canada, standard product certification systems are established by state and municipal law. NRTL product safety certification in the United States and CSA in Canada are standard product certification systems. Our products that conform to the North American certification system display the certification mark on the product.
